LOS ANGELES, Cal. Jan. 11.—Edward Smith, one of the local aviators was struck on the head by the propeller blade of his monoplane, of the Langley type, and severely injured. He is in the Aviation Camp hospital.

LOS ANGELES, Cal. Jan. 11.—It was announced at 1:30 o'clock that there probably would be no competition flights before 2:30, owing to the wet condition of the starting course.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11.—Shortly after his first flight, Paulhan again arose in the Bleriot and flew one hundred and fifty yards straightaway and very close to the ground. Evidently the engine of the machine was not working perfectly.

AVIATION CAMP, Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 11.—Following the first two flights, several unsuccessful attempts were made to get the Bleriot machine off the ground.

During the delay preceding the starting of the main events the local aviators on a more or less monoplane, equipped with the original Curtiss motor, were at work on their machines at daybreak. Later, with the sun arose and drove away the low hanging clouds, the enthusiasm of the fliers and those who were assisting them at the shade where the machines were housed, rose almost to fever heat. The hint of great events was everywhere.

PAULHAN ENTHUSIASTIC.

Paulhan was among the first to arrive at the tent where his two Farman and two Bleriot machines are housed and was soon directing the work of assembling the Bleriot monoplanes which were not flown yesterday because of the non-arrival of some of the parts. Long before noon, all of the four machines

COMPANY IS FORCED TO RESORT TO COURT

J. Pierson, Squatter, Delays
the Wheels of Progress Effectively

ALAMEDA, Jan. 11.—Guarding his property with a rifle, J. Pierson, an ardent dweller at the foot of Briggs avenue, is defying employees of the Southern Pacific Company, who are constructing a line around the east end, to cross his property, and so far has succeeded in keeping the working crew at bay. With a gun held securely in his hands, Pierson sits on his property. He has cautioned the men who are building the line that he will kill the first one who crosses his property.

And neither the police nor the city officials have any right to interfere or stop the action, according to City Attorney W. Simpson. Chief Conrad cannot arrest the man because his weapon is not concealed.

Pierson, who says that possession is nine-tenths of the law, is continuing to hold his property today by "squatter's rights" and the aid of a rifle.

According to the Southern Pacific Company, a fence built recently by Pierson around his property crosses its right of way through the east end of the city. The company claims to have paid for the property which Pierson says is his. A few weeks ago he erected a fence around the site. This obstruction was torn down by the employees of the Southern Pacific Company and last Saturday Pierson put up another fence in the same position as the first enclosing his property.

Edgar Taylor says that he has been paying taxes for several years on the land Pierson occupies, and served him with a notice to vacate same. But Pierson has remained obdurate and when employees of the Hutchinson Company, which was awarded the contract by the Southern Pacific Company for the grading of Briggs avenue, attempted to tear down his fence today he frightened them away at the point of a pistol. The men reported the matter to the police and Detective Wilmot investigated.

WAIT FOR WARNS.

"We have no right to arrest this man," said Wilmot to City Engineer L. N. Conrad, who wanted the arrest made. Conrad, a Southern Pacific Company man, will have to sue the Tappan and get a warrant out for Pierson before he can interfere. He claims that the property is his, and as far as we know he is a citizen of the United States.

Pierson claims the land belongs to the government and that a certain portion of it is given to him many years ago by the Southern Pacific Company he has been purchasing in the east end of the city for its new electrical system, and claims to have the right of way on Pierson's site.

City Attorney Simpson said today: "The only thing I can do in this matter is to sue the Tappan and get a warrant out for Pierson before he can interfere. He claims that the property is his, and as far as we know he is a citizen of the United States."

ARMY APPROPRIATION.

Bill Passes House

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Carrying an appropriation of $93,260,000 for the maintenance of the army for the fiscal year 1911, the army appropriation bill passed the House today by a vote of 183 to 218, present and not voting, 9.

The opposition was due to the fact that the department estimates were exceeded.

New Ministry Will Be Selected in Austria

VIENNA, Jan. 11.—The proposed cabinet of Dr. Ladislaus von Laxkar has failed to meet the approval of Emperor Francis Joseph, the latter in an audience entrusted Count Khevenhuer with the responsibility of forming a new ministry. A false rumour was circulated in London today that the Emperor was ill.

WITH DEAD WIFE IN ARMS, GOES DANCING
ALONG THE STREET

CINCINNATI, Jan. 11.—The unusual sight of a negro singing and waltzing along the street with the dead body of a woman in his arms, startled Patrolmen McCorkhill and Reynolds early today.

They closed in on the man who thereupon dropped the body and ran. The body proved to be that of the negro's wife. The negro, Thomas Harvey, was taken to the police station and held for safe keeping.

Harvey, grief stricken over his wife's death, left the house in the afternoon and did not return until midnight. The undertakers were in the house preparing the body for burial but Harvey drove everyone from the house, placed a cigarette in the dead woman's mouth and, taking the body in his arms, started out on the street.

AUBURN GIRL IS VIOLENTLY INSANE

Alma Bell Becomes Mad After Long Brooding Over Her Troubles

her at that time, and added, "I am not going to marry you; you will have to get out of it yourself some way."

SWEETHEART LEAVES HER. Maddened by the realization of her betrayal the girl pleaded with her lover, following him to work and cooking his meals with dog-like devotion. Armes, annoyed by the turn of events, removed to a cabin occupied by several laborers, about a mile from the house, and it was thither Alma Bell went on the night of the murder.

Creeping to the front door she begged admittance, which was denied her. Crying pitifully the distraught girl entered through the back entrance by breaking a window door, and kneeling by Armes' bed, begged him a last time to make her his wife. The man refused, and angered by the girl's presence in the cabin, requested her to go.

MURDER IN THE NIGHT.

"If you will go with me," she responded, and side by side the two went out into the starlit night together. A moment later a shot rang out, there was a single agonized cry of "Good-bye, Joe," and silence. Armes was picked up by the roadside with a gaping wound in his heart. The girl was found after a twelve-hour search, hiding in the bushes near the scene of the tragedy.

During the long trial Alma Bell was the recipient of letters and flowers from a host of sympathizers, who literally bombarded the jail in an effort to communicate with her. Her acquittal came on Thanksgiving morning.

New Columbia Theater Opens to Full House

SAN FRANCISCO. Jan. 11.—With the opening of the Columbia Theater last evening San Francisco added another magnificent playhouse and building to its rehabilitated district. The new Columbia is situated at the corner of Geary and Mason streets, where the elite of San Francisco gathered to witness William H. Crane's interpretation of George Ade's production, "Father and the Boys."

The old Columbia spirit was revived in the dedicatory ceremonies, when Melville Marx, one of the proprietors of the theater, stepped in front of the footlights and announced that after the fire of 1906 he had intended to build a better Columbia, but had withheld the name until it could appear upon a theater that was adequate in every particular. After thanking the subscribers for bidding on their seats, which they had temporarily relinquished, he read two telegrams of congratulation from Rose Stahl, who turned the first shovelful of earth and one from Blanche Bates, one of the most loyal native actresses.

Major P. H. McCarthy, who was inaugurated three days ago, delivered a brief address from an upper box in which he eloquently spoke of the courage that animated the promoters of the enterprise and of the success in the establishment of the new playhouse, which has a very artistic interior. The possibilities of the city and the State, he said, were beautifully exhibited in the structure. Local brains and talent controlled the plans and designs of the theater.

Mr. Crane spoke in a reminiscent vein and recalled many pleasant stories of the old Columbia. He dwelt upon the new building which was reconstructed from the dead and a touch of fun and pathos made his speech impressive.

Secretary of Merchant Marine League Speaks at the Prosperity Luncheon

Charles C. Henion, secretary of the Merchant Marine League of California, who spoke at the regular luncheon of the San Francisco Prosperity Committee held noon today at the Forum Cafe. Henion explained the necessity of the league under the present depression to oust him today from the position he snatched suddenly from them yesterday, as he swept from behind his cockpit to a dramatic new over the huge grandstand, dangerously close to the heads of the cheering thousands of spectators.

One of the chief purposes of the league is to secure the passage of the Humphrey Bill, now before Congress. Henion mentioned that he had received a telegram stating that the passage of the proposed legislation was practically assured.

The speaker also referred to the great importance to Oakland of any legislation to give encouragement to shipping lines in the United States and South America, the Orient, Philippines and Australia. He urged that present to work in the body of the people to the vital necessity of an adequate and effective merchant marine.

David Paul, publicity man for the League, said: "It is a deplorable fact and one showing the condition to which our shipping has drifted, that we now have a number of small vessels engaged in cross sea foreign service. For the past eighteen years not a single vessel entered the port of Copenhagen during the year 1909 one vessel passed through the Suez Canal with only 600 tons.

He appealed to Oakland to join the League, which is working as much for the city as it is for any other on the Pacific Coast."

"The greatest possibilities for the shipping industry exists in Oakland," declared Paul. "It should form the distribution center for the trade between the Orient, Siberia, West Coast, Philippines and Australia and the United States."

"England has over 11,500 ships, Germany has more than 2,000, Japan has engaged in cross sea foreign service."

Among the other speakers were B. P. Miller, William H. McCarthy, Kenneth Millican and Robert Martland.

MINING MAN STANDS CHANCE OF RECOVERY

WASHINGTON. Jan. 11.—The condition of mine owner, who is ill at his residence in Massachusetts, was reported to be much improved today.

A Trained Nurse Made Discovery. No one is better position to know the value of food and drink than a trained nurse.

Speaking of coffee, a nurse of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., writes: "I used to drink strong coffee myself, and suffered greatly from headaches and indigestion. While on a visit to my brother's I had a good chance to try Postum Food Coffee, for they drank it altogether in place of ordinary coffee. In two weeks after using Postum I found I was much benefited, and finally my headaches disappeared and also the indigestion."

"Naturally I have since used Postum among my patients, and have noticed a marked benefit where coffee has been left off and Postum used."

"I observed a curious fact about Postum when used among mothers. It greatly helps the flow of milk in up, and where tea causes nervousness."

"I find trouble in getting servants to make Postum properly. They must always serve it before it has been boiled long enough, as it should begin to boil and served with cream, when it is certainly a delicious beverage. Read 'The Road to Wellville,' in pkgs."

Bishop fairly denied reports that New York was unable to secure the international aviation cup, and said that preparations had progressed so far that a tract on Long Island had been purchased for the aviation field.

"Nothing has been done towards a permanent headquarters for the International Aviation Cup," said Mr. Bishop. "In fact, the international aviation field is not yet established."

"President before and the present journal I shall visit several cities that have bid for the international aeroplane competition, among them Washington and Baltimore, which are working together, and also New Mexico."

"I shall also go to Denver and St. Louis, both of which cities are seeking the bid."

"I intend to investigate closely the facilities and the cost of each and their report to the directors of the Aero Club of America, who will finally decide. I do not think anything definite will be done until March 1st or later."

AMERICAN AVIATORS STRIVE TO OUTDO THE FRENCHMAN

Feats of Paulhan Spur On Other Aeronauts and Competition Is Now an International Affair

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11.—Paulhan's sensational assumption of the hero part with his spectacular series of flights at Aviation Field, has stirred the interest of the American aviators to a determination to oust him today from the position he snatched suddenly from them yesterday, as he swept from behind his cockpit to a dramatic new over the huge grandstand, dangerously close to the heads of the cheering thousands of spectators.

ALLEGED BAY PIRATE FOUND NOT GUILTY

Decision in Case of Embezzler Is Sweeping and May Affect Many

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—A number of defendants, convicted of various offenses, who have succeeded in postponing their sentences, are liable to be granted the boon of a new trial under the decision handed down by the Supreme Court last week in the case of C. E. Rankin, convicted of embezzling bonds of the Ocean Shore Railway. At the request of the defendant, Superior Judge Conley indefinitely postponed his judgment and the higher tribunal holds that this entitles him to a new trial, as the statute specifically requires a sentence within six days.

If this is applied in other criminal cases it will probably result in numerous retrials. Rankin will come up for sentence tomorrow before Judge Conley, but it is not known what disposition will be made of the case.

When the dispatch from Paris says that the International Aeronautical Association has selected dates for numerous aerial caravans in various parts of the world during the year 1916, Mr. Bishop said he could not understand why the international aviation meet was set for November. The moon has a great deal to do with the success of the international balloon contest, too, and Mr. Bishop found that there was only a half moon or three-quarters on October 26, the date selected for the meet.

"I am not at all certain about any of these things," he went on. "I was the American delegate to the meeting, but I did not know in Paris to come out here for the aviation cup, and I do not know that preparations had progressed so far that a tract on Long Island had been purchased for the aviation field."

JAPS MENACE CALIFORNIA, SAYS THE REPORT

Nipponese Are Strongly Intrenched in Interior of State

THEIR HOLDINGS RUN INTO THE MILLIONS

Extent of Their Property Holdings Have Been Concealed

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—That the report of the State Labor Commissioner on the activity, commercial and agricultural holdings and number of the Japanese in California will contain statistics of a startling nature is freely asserted by those in charge of the gathering of information upon which the report, that all ultimately reach the President, will be based.

The report, which will be ready for presentation to the Governor about March, is now in the making, and H. A. Steel, statistician for the Bureau of Labor Statistics, is rushing the work so that the United States government may be in possession of the facts about the entrenchment of the Japanese in California as soon as possible.

The last legislature passed a law authorizing the Governor to direct State Labor Commissioner McKenzie to investigate and report on the Japs in this State and appropriated $10,000 to carry on the work.

ARE HOLDING MILLIONS.

It is said that the field deputies of the Bureau of Labor Statistics have unearthed sensational information regarding the commercial, agricultural and industrial activities of the Japs. The Mikado's subjects have not been letting any moss grow under their feet. Their holdings are way up in the millions. Just how much property and money they control at the present time the Bureau of Statistics has not fully ascertained, but it is said to be a large amount. The Japanese have been found to be particularly active in the propagation and harvesting of California crops and to have a complete organization controlling Japanese labor in the State. Hundreds of unrecorded leases and deeds to rural and city property have been found and the extent of the property so owned and controlled will not be known until the gathering of statistics is completed.

HAVE GRIP.

When the State Labor Commissioner's report is made public, it is said, it will show that the Japs have a grip on this State that will be hard to break.

Much secrecy is being maintained by those in charge of the work of gathering information concerning the Japs, as the report is to be submitted to President Taft through Governor Gillett before it is made public.

The scope of the investigation now near completion is broad. It will embrace everything concerning the Japs, even to the amount of money they have in banks, and the report is to be made by the United States government as a basis for laws and treaties which may be made governing the immigration and control of the Japanese in this country and particularly on the Pacific coast.

The Japanese population in the State is about 15,000 or 20,000, not having increased materially during the past year, but the number who are now here have become so firmly entrenched as to cause much alarm to the whites.

HEIRESS MARRIES POOR CHAUFFEUR

Miss Leavitt Makes Certain of Good Driver by Wedding Him

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The family of G. V. Howland Leavitt, banker and railroad man, confirms the announcement that Miss Leavitt, Miss Margaret Howland Leavitt, 25 years of age and heiress to a million dollars, was married "without the knowledge or consent of her parents" to Joseph F. Smolten, her chauffeur.

Miss Leavitt's father purchased for her a six-cylinder motor car last summer and engaged Smolten, who was formerly James J. Corbett's chauffeur, to teach her how to operate the machine.

Miss Leavitt, 25, and Mr. Smolten, according to the statement, have made her family. Mr. Leavitt did not hear of the marriage until today, and when she asked her daughter about it the young woman is said to have admitted the facts.

Another Legal Battle Is Lost by Heney

PORLTAND, Oreg., Jan. 11.—Francis J. Heney, government prosecutor, lost his first battle in the defense today in the case of the United States against Julius Hermann, former congressman from this state, accused of conspiracy to defraud the United States of a portion of the public moneys received by him. He was allowed the privilege of excusing himself from the witness stand, but his defense was limited to three. This was in accordance with a recently amended state statute.

There have been thus far two peremptory challenges by the defense and one by the government.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—Attorney Beatty of this city, who recently inherited $70,000 left him by a Berkeley widow for whom he had done some legal work, today was granted $2000 from the estate of his mother, who died several weeks ago, by Superior Judge Graham.

NEW SALT WATER SYSTEM TO RECEIVE THE OFFICIAL TESTS

City Will Have Perfect Protection Against the Menaces of Fire When Plant Is Completed

The salt water fire department auxiliary system which has been in the course of construction for many months past and which, when the entire plant is accepted, will have cost the city of Oakland in round figures $100,000, will be put to an official test at the latter part of this week or the beginning of next. The two high-power gas engines and pumps must, in accordance with the requirements of the specifications, show a ten-hour continuous running capacity to deliver 2000 gallons per minute under a hydrant pressure at any point along the line of at least 200 pounds per square inch, that is, when the two engines and pumps are working together to their full strength.

Running alone, each engine and pump must deliver at least 1000 gallons per minute at the hydrants along the pipeline under a hydrant pressure of at least 200 pounds per square inch. These results must be obtained, moreover, with only two men in the engine room.

Yesterday, an official test was made of the pipe-line under the supervision of Assistant City Engineer P. F. Brown, who has supervised the laying of the line from the beginning. The test was made with one engine running in the power house and the pressure gauge hose line connected with the hydrant at the junction of Second and Washington at the remotest point on the pipe-line from the power plant.

GET HIGH PRESSURE.

The plant delivered 700 gallons per minute, under a pressure ranging from 210 to 220 pounds per square inch at the hydrant, with a stream thrown through two lines of 2 3/4-inch hose joined to a discharge pipe with a 1 1/2-inch nozzle. A stream was projected horizontally from the nozzle thus at tached to these Siamese hose lines a distance of 250 feet. At the nozzle with this length of hose a pressure of 130 pounds was shown at the nozzle.

"With a shorter hose," remarked Mr. Brown, "a corresponding increase of pressure will be obtained, but it will be put to a shorter test."

Each hydrant has five hose connections—that is, if necessary, five separate streams can be simultaneously discharged from one hydrant.

So far as the pipe-line was concerned the test yesterday gave satisfaction and the question of its acceptance will come up before the Board of Public Works at tomorrow's meeting.

The makers of the plant are requested that they have the plant ready to be tested at the junction of Second and Washington at the earliest possible moment.

DEFECT IN VALVE.

The north engine had given trouble owing to some defect in the fuel supply valve, which had been shut off.

Before announcing their readiness to submit to the official tests the makers will continue their private tests of the plant, and they are satisfied that they will meet every requirement of the specifications.

In addition to the ten hour continuous running test of the pipe-line, during which time it must deliver 2000 gallons per minute at the hydrant, each engine will be tested separately to determine just consumption capacity and efficiency.

"Whenever the makers of the machinery say they are ready to submit to these tests," said Mr. Brown today, "we are to be at the plant and then take it to do not think the official test will take place the contractors as hard as we could consistent with a desire to see them make good."

Macdonough, Under New Management, Will Be One of the Foremost Theaters on Pacific Coast

STAR ATTRACTIONS OF EAST WILL ALL COME TO OAKLAND

Manager Campbell Introduces Telephonic Innovation and Other Improvements for Convenience of Patrons

For the first time in her theatrical history, Oakland is to have an even chance with San Francisco and Los Angeles on the booking charts of the eastern show house dictators who are sending to this coast in ever increasing numbers the greatest attractions of each successive year.

Under the new management of Harry H. Campbell & Co., who have taken over the Macdonough Theater lease, the popular playhouse is to be brought up to the standard maintained by the foremost theaters of the east. Attractions will be booked weeks and months in advance, and every one of the stellar shows which have hitherto delighted playgoers across the bay to the exclusion of those on this side, will be brought here for frequent and, where possible, extended engagements.

NEW MANAGEMENT.

H. H. Campbell, who has achieved no little recognition as a theatrical manager of unusual executive ability, both here and in the east, has taken direct charge of the local playhouse, and under his competent directorship the theater is to be thoroughly warmed by steam heat, added exits are to be thrown open and every possible means taken to secure the comfort and general satisfaction of the patrons of the house.

"We realize that there is an enormous field for just such a project as we have in mind," declared Mr. Campbell, to a TRIBUNE reporter, "and since coming to this city I have been more than ever surprised that the crying need for an up-to-date theater has never, up to this time, been met. Since I have been here the attractions we have been able to present so far have been greeted on each successive evening by capacity houses. That the people of this city appreciate and are ready to uphold the presentation of the best talent of the stage today right here in their midst, is evident."

TELEPHONIC INNOCVATION.

Under Mr. Campbell's guidance the women ushers who have so long been in evidence at the theater have been done away with, and in their place uniformed men have been substituted. A second innovation is the establishment of a telephonic exchange for the exclusive use of patrons wishing to secure accommodations over the wire.

"This is a department which has been wholly overlooked heretofore," asserts Mr. Campbell, "and it is one of the first things that I set about to remedy. I have employed a man whose sole duty shall be to take charge of our telephone calls and seats will be held until a reasonable hour in the evening."

"The convenience of such an arrangement is obvious. It is only necessary to ring up the theater to secure seats, and I anticipate its ready appreciation by patrons who, unable to call at the box office during the day, have hitherto been unable to secure courteous attention to their orders over the phone."

EXTENDED BOOKING LIST.

"I am receiving daily bookings for several weeks ahead, and where possible am endeavoring to extend the proposed engagements of some of the higher class attractions, with a view to keeping the house open continually. Heretofore the number of 'dark nights' have been a bad feature and under our regime I hope it can be completely done away with."

Among the list of plays and players for the coming weeks at the theater are to be found the foremost productions for this year. As the list has been arranged musical comedy will follow in rapid sequence the heavier drama, and foremost among the coming attractions is an entire week of grand operas which will hold the boards late in February.

FAMOUS LOMBARDI TROUPE.

"I am giving the engagement of the Lombardi troupe my special attention," declares Campbell. "Mr. Lombardi is, and has been for many years, a warm personal friend of mine, and on his arrival here I anticipate little difficulty in inducing him to produce the finest selections in his large repertoire for the benefit of Oakland. The object is to afford residents on this side of the bay an opportunity to witness just such a grand opera week as San Francisco has known to advise with me and tell me wherein I am wrong. I want them to make suggestions to me and give me advice, so we want the city to get the benefit that will come to it by being known throughout the country as a first-class show town. You know when you go into a city and find a first-class theater with all sorts of Eastern attractions, you can put it down that that is a good city in which to make financial investment. I do not want it understood that I am in any way knocking the previous management or any other management regarding the conduct of the theatrical business in this city. I am only saying that I intend to make the business of the Macdonough five times better than it has ever been in its history. I am going to give the people what they want and I know they will come and patronize me, because I am going to make it comfortable, pleasant and entertaining for them and I am going to try at all times to give them their money's worth."

FAREWELL TO HENRY.

"After living in San Francisco for a number of years I have made my home in Oakland and am now a part of this community. I have my own money invested in the theater with my partner, and am coming here with the upbuilding spirit. I want to help upbuild the city, for in doing that I am building up my business. Already I have made several important changes in the manner of conducting affairs at the theater, which I think the public will appreciate. We are going to make good here. I mean by that that we are going to make money

PLYMOUTH ROCK NO NIGHTINGALE

It's Master, However, Enjoys Music Made By the Rooster

NEW YORK, Jan. 11. — That a Plymouth Rock rooster is the property and particular pet of Jacob A. Rils, friend of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, may get him into trouble with the Department of Health unless he prevents the bird from crowing. In the declaration of some of Mr. Rils' neighbors in Richmond Hill, Long Island, Charles F. Berner and William Edwards, who live near Mr. Rils, say his rooster has a voice like a fog horn and commences crowing every morning at 2 o'clock. That his neighbors are too sensitive is the opinion of Mr. Rils.

"I kept a nightingale in my back yard instead of a rooster there would still be some neighbors who would complain," declared Mr. Rils yesterday. "This rooster, they speak of is never heard before 6 o'clock. Of course, if the board of health notifies me that he is a nuisance, that is, I will remove the cause of complaint, but I will certainly not kill the bird, for I would not kill any bird or animal."

PROMINENT ALAMEDAN SUMMONED BY DEATH

ALAMEDA, Jan. 11. — Lorenz L. Schuler died last night at his home, 434 Central avenue. Death followed an attack of illness which he suffered yesterday while walking on Webster street. He fell to the pavement and was carried into a nearby drug store, where he was revived and taken to his residence.

Since sustaining a fall about three years ago, Schuler had never been in good health and was a constant sufferer.

He had sudden attacks of rheumatism and his condition had been serious and times.

Schuler was the son of the late Henry Schuler and Rose C. Schuler, whom formerly owned the Palace brewery in the west end. They were prominent in the German colony. On the death of his father young Schuler assumed the proprietorship of the brewery.

Deceased was a member of the old volunteer fire department. He was thirty-eight years of age and unmarried.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Sam K. Hulse, and a brother, Frank A. M. and William F. Schuler.

Deceased was a member of the Alameda Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, under whose auspices his funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Masonic Hall. Interment will be in Mountain View cemetery.

Short services will be said at the home of deceased prior to the funeral services at Masonic Hall.

SAYS THAT THIS IS GRAFT AGE

Justice Wesley Declares That the Dollar Mark Is Uppermost

TROY, N. Y., Jan. 11. — "The age of patriotism has yielded to the age of commercialism. Uppermost in the human mind today is not the Stars and Stripes, but the dollar mark."

Such was the declaration of Supreme Court Justice Wesley O. Howard in an opinion today reducing the compensation of members of a commission appointed to appraise damages to property resulting from the construction of the Ashland reservoir in Ulster county, which is to furnish a water supply for New York city.

"While the commission furnishes avenues for the reckless escape of many dollars, there are other channels of leakage and waste fully as appalling," said Justice Howard. "It is greatly to be regretted that no public enterprise can be projected and consummated without this appalling loss, called 'graft.' Graft is not necessarily an illegal expenditure of money, but it is that unnecessary waste of public venture."

"At least four percent of all the money appropriated for public use is lost in graft. All things could be possible if this frightful leak could be stopped roads, canals, libraries, asylums and hospitals."

"Graft is a product of our times and institutions. It is the people who are responsible. They expect graft, and even spoil and booby, to deplete their resources, whenever any great undertaking is ventured by them, and they look with complacency and toleration and indifference at ravages upon their property."

"Graft is as much an element to be reckoned with in computing the cost of a public structure as cement or lumber. It has come to be a matter of course — this rake-off, a loss recognized by all who make estimates of cost in such cases. A public structure built honestly would be a freak."

Justice Howard declares that "the whole project of the condemnation of land in the Ashland valley is characterized by waste, disorder and confusion."

LABOR COUNCIL MAKES PROTEST

Workers Are in Favor of the Conservation of Public Domain

The summary dismissal of Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot by President William H. Taft was severely criticised last night by the Central Labor Council of Alameda county, who at their last night's meeting passed the following resolution:

Whereas, Gifford Pinchot has at all times made an effort to keep the industries of this country open to the laboring man; and

Whereas, the action of President William H. Taft in dismissing Pinchot as he did is contrary to what should be according to the ethics of organized labor; be it hereby Resolved, That such action be heartily condemned.

After the voting on this resolution, a separate motion, making the first unanimous, was passed by the council. The matter of Pinchot's dismissal was discussed at some length by members of the council, and for some time the policy of Pinchot in advocating forest conservation has met with the support of the labor organizations of this state.

On December 23 resolutions were passed authorizing the labor federation's stand in this matter, and copies sent to Congressman J. Knowland and Senator George C. Perkins, who both replied that they were in favor of conservation.

COUNCIL'S LETTER.

The following letter was sent to both Congressman Knowland and Senator Perkins. It read:

"Oakland, Dec. 23, 1909.
"Dear Sir: I am instructed to forward to you the hearty endorsement of the Central Labor Council of Alameda county of the resolution passed on December 3, by our sister body in Pasadena, this state, in which the conservation policies of Hon. Gifford Pinchot are so decisively espoused.

"Believe me, the action is not inspired by political partisan spirit. It is the outgrowth of earnest, independent consideration of the subject, and fervent belief in the theory of the greatest good to the greatest number."

"The officers of this body will observe very closely the action of our representatives in congress in this connection."

"A. W. SEFTON, Secretary Central Labor Council."

KNOWLAND'S REPLY.

"A. W. Sefton, Jr., secretary Central Labor Council, Oakland, Cal.—MY Dear Sir: I wish to acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 2d inst., conveying information that the Central Labor Council has endorsed the conservation policies of Hon. Gifford Pinchot, and that the officers of the Central Labor Council are closely observing the actions of their representatives in Congress in connection with this matter. The representative from the Third Congressional district welcomes the closest scrutiny of all his public acts.

"Rest assured that our views will be given the closest consideration. Very truly yours, J. R. KNOWLAND.

The letters were read at last night's

SENATOR PERKIN'S REPLY.

Senator Perkins communicated with the council as follows:

"Central Labor Council, Oakland, Cal.—Gentlemen: I was glad to have your letter of the 23d, telling of the resolutions of your council in favor of the policy of conservation, of which I am entirely in favor. I do not think that any effort will be made by legislation to interfere with this policy."

"GEORGE C. PERKINS."

Last night's resolution will be sent to President Taft, Secretary Ballinger, Mr. Pinchot, the building trades council of this state, Knowland and Perkins, and the press. Deutiful matters were also passed upon by the council, and new delegates were seated.

LABOR UNIONS HOLD MEETINGS

Oakland Stationary Firemen Hold Banquet and Talk Over Prospects

Regular business was laid aside last night at the meeting of the Oakland Stationary Firemen's Union in the headquarters of the Central Labor Council on Eighth street, while the members of the organization took part in an informal banquet, at which matters pertaining to the good of the union were discussed by the members.

The affair was more of a smoker than a formal banquet, no toaster master being in charge, and matters were brought up in an informal manner and discussed over pipes. No official business was transacted at the meeting, although several resolutions which will be presented next Monday night were talked over.

Orders were issued last night by the Central Labor Council of this county on declaring a union boycott against the committee in charge of the Los Angeles Aviation Meet, and warning all union men of this county to neither patronize the grand stands on the grounds nor do any work for any one connected with the affair.

This action was taken at the request of the Los Angeles Central Labor Council, who have declared the boycott for the reason that the grand stands were erected by F. O. Engstrom, the non-union contractor who was prominent in the north of the State several years ago as a strike breaker. The committee in charge of the building of the stand advertised for bids to do the work needed on the grounds where the meet is being held, and Engstrom submitting the lowest figure, his bid was accepted despite the protest of the Los Angeles unions.

Several new delegates took seats last night from different unions of this city, eight being installed from the Street Carmen's Local Division 192. The street car delegates were as follows: J. W. Smart, R. H. Farmer, T. O. Davies, J. L. Palmer, A. F. Bassett, W. R. Lovejoy, J. H. Rothberg, O. C. Bristow and D. C. Henning.

The Bakers' union of Oakland sent three new representatives to the council, William Gebble, James Shea and Paul Fubler being installed in their seats, while J. C. Tretreway will represent the mail clerks of this city at future meetings. Other delegates were as follows: Cooks and Waiters' Union, Local No. 31, Henry Fortier, Herman Hollander, George Blauvelt and Sig Zollner; Outside Electrical Workers, No. 48, N. A. Matthews, C. A. Drotte, E. J. Curie, William Heyne and H. Derolph, Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, Local No. 1, Daniel Sullivan and Ed Keyhole.

M'GUE'S WIDOW IS A HEROINE

Saves a Man and Three Horses From Death in Stable Fire

CORTE MADERA, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Kitty McCue, widow of the late James F. McCue, proved herself a heroine last night, when she saved one man and three horses from being burned to death in a fire that broke out in the adjoining cottage of Mrs. Samuels Woods. Mrs. McCue saw the flames from the window leaping from the roof of the dwelling shortly after midnight, and, throwing her wrapper over her night dress, rushed to the front door of the cottage, and roused William Little, who was asleep in the burning house. She then spread the alarm, and as the flames threatened the barn on her property, where three valuable horses were stalled, she blindfolded the animals and led them to a place of safety.

The cause of the fire is unknown. The cottage was burned to the ground. It was valued at $5000 and insured for $3000.

REPORTS ARE MADE TO THE ALAMEDA POLICE

ALAMEDA, Jan. 11.—Reports of various kinds were entered on the police docket yesterday. Dr. Harvey Smith phoned that a man was running around in a vacant lot on Clinton avenue, between Union and Grand streets. He said that the man acted as though he was crazed. Police investigation revealed no trace of the deranged man, who had disappeared after a short time.

J. Banks of 2021 Clement street saw a suspicious looking man roaming around his neighborhood and asked for police aid. The man was found to be a Chinaman, who was a stranger in the city and looking for the last of his friend.

That a flock of pigeons owned by a neighbor by the name of Vogt, living at 2158 San Jose avenue, annoyed him, was discovered by Fred W. Morrison of 1218 San Jose, and Morrison says that pigeons are a nuisance.

George Ozen of Encinal avenue and Eliza street reported that an attempt had been made to enter his saloon. He found the lock on the door broken and a hole bored close to the rock, and thinks a thief tried to gain entrance to the saloon, but that he was frightened away.

Henry Shumway, at his best, Mrs. Mina Gleeson, as the mother of "Trixie" did some good work. Gen. Webster presented an excellent "Captain Flyby" the sprightly French comedy first produced in this country by John Drew and Eddie Burke. A better vehicle could not have been chosen for the little actress, who in face and form closely resembles the star who first produced the play; as it gave her ample opportunity to display the irresistible school girl gaiety won by her audience.

Sydney A. Drew, in "The Captain," John Drew's original part of "Gerald Everard," furnished an excellent support for the petite actress.

Miss Hall made her first appearance amid a furor of applause, gowned in a pale pink creation, and from the start won the heart of even the crustiest old bachelor in the house. At the end of the act several floral offerings from friends in this city were sent to the stage, eliciting another of those gags from Miss Hall which brought down the house.

George Friend, as the foppish Englishman, "Gordon Gore," had the best comedy role of the play and filled it with more than his usual cleverness, while as the slow witted English butler, Henry Shumway, at his best, Mrs. Mina Gleeson, as the mother of "Trixie" did some good work.

The Complaint of the Insurgents

The complaint of the "insurgents" that they are being read out of the party because they are no longer invited to attend Republican caucuses is a trifle ridiculous in view of the fact that they are arrayed in open rebellion against the caucus. The caucus represents the authority of the party—the will of the majority; but the insurgents have rebelled against the authority of the party and have steadily refused to be bound by caucus action. Why should they be invited to attend a caucus whose authority they deny? Why do they wish invitations to a party caucus when it is known in advance that they will not abide by its rules nor regard its mandates as binding?

The insurgents say that neglecting to send them notices to attend the caucus is equivalent to reading them out of the party. That is pure nonsense. They have read themselves out of the caucus by rebelling against its authority and voting against its mandates. If being outside the caucus is being outside the party, the position they occupy is due to their own acts. They got out of their own accord. When the contest over the House rules arose they defied the caucus, and have since been openly allied with the Democrats in opposition to the Republican majority in Congress. It is their announced purpose to overthrow, with the assistance of the Democrats, the authority of the majority of the party.

Yet they claim full fellowship in the Republican party. In open revolt against party discipline and in constant intrigues with Champ Clark, the Democratic leader, they demand admission to the Republican caucus. Why do they desire notice to attend the caucus? They are fighting it—in defiant contumacy of its mandates. They are demanding full recognition as Republican representatives when they are advocating Democratic policies and in league with the Democratic minority. They wish to get into the caucus that they may kick against it from the inside instead of from the outside, where they have voluntarily placed themselves.

Municipal Parks in California.

State Controller Nye has compiled the statistics relating to the park acreage of the leading cities in the State and the expenditures of public money on them by the several municipalities, which make the following showing:

City—	Expenditure.	Acreage.
San Francisco.....	$380,434.05	1211
Los Angeles.....	158,181.52	3762
Oakland.....	112,882.68	323
Riverside.....	19,470.34	49
Sacramento.....	16,113.04	89
Pasadena.....	11,482.17	29
Stockton.....	11,178.99	19
Fresno.....	9,761.03	120
Marysville.....	7,704.78	14
Eureka.....	6,134.08	50
Long Beach.....	5,619.41	24
Santa Barbara.....	5,153.18	91

From the foregoing it will be observed that Oakland stands third in the list as to both park area and expenditures for park improvements. Regarding the pro rata expenditures for improvements and maintenance Oakland is entitled to the premier position, as it is spending more money annually per acre on its park area than any of the other large cities in California. Los Angeles leads the cities of the State in the acreage of its park systems, but it is only spending $42.30 per acre for the improvement and maintenance of its parks. San Francisco spends $314.18 per acre, while Oakland has spent at the rate of $349.48 per acre. Moreover, what is more to Oakland's credit, with a few minor exceptions, the park lands it possesses have been acquired by purchase with the money of its taxpayers, whereas San Francisco's Golden Gate Park of over 1000 acres was a gift from the State, and at least 2800 acres of Los Angeles' park lands—namely, Griffiths Park—were acquired through the generosity of the man whose name it bears.

The year 1910 will witness the expenditure of anywhere between $10,000,000 and $20,000,000 in private and public service improvements. Make a note of it and think of the effect such an expenditure will have on the future values of property in Oakland.

Los Angeles is about to begin the construction of 300 miles of modern macadamized highways, having recently sold $3,500,000 worth of bonds voted by the people for the purpose. Most of the agricultural counties in the State are now enlisted in the work of constructing good roads. It is in full swing in most of the southern counties and in nearly all of the counties in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys. In a few years California will have the best and most extensive system of good public highways of any State in the Union, and all classes of producers will reap a golden harvest from it in the reduced cost of haulage and the saving in wear and tear on horses and wagons.

As soon as weather conditions become settled a campaign for street improvement should be inaugurated. Many of the macadamized streets in the older sections of the city are in bad repair and should be paved with asphalt or bitumen. Likewise a great many sidewalks require paving and curbing. Property-owners should take this matter up earnestly and at once, co-operating vigorously with the municipal authorities in their efforts to better traffic conditions throughout the city. THE TRIBUNE hopes the Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' Exchange and other civic organizations will give their aid and influence actively to a street paving movement.

Earthly Calamity Prophesies.

Camille Flammarion, the distinguished French astronomer, predicts the early destruction of the earth. And so does General William Booth, the head of the Salvation Army. They are not the first calamity prophets in the field. Their predecessors have occupied the center of the public stage from time immemorial. Perhaps the most conspicuous of the tribe was old Mother Shipton, who named the year of the dire calamity, which did not materialize, for the date has been passed and gone for over a decade and the old earth spins on its axis and swings in its orbit in the way it has done for unnumbered millions of years past, if we can place any faith in the judgment of geologists.

In the present instance, Flammarion, who has always been more or less of a sensationalist, pins his prediction on the seventy-six-year periodic return of Halley's comet on its orbit into the solar planetary system and its approach to the earth on its return to space not to reappear for another seventy-six years. That this erratic heavenly visitor is known to have gone regularly through the same periodic celestial performance, according to the records, before the birth of Christ without disaster to the earth or of any of the other planets in the system cuts apparently no figure in Flammarion's opinion. We are in for it this time, because the earth will be swept by its tail.

If the earth in the memory of the living had not gone through the same experience with comet's tails quite as large and emerged without any perceptible suffering, his prophecy of disaster next May might create a scare; but there are so many other reliable astronomers who give assurance that although the earth will sweep through Halley's tenuous tail in its course on its orbit without producing any visible effect, there is no cause for alarm in the slightest degree.

General Booth bases his prediction of calamity to the earth on different grounds. According to his ideas, its dissolution is imminent because of the wickedness of its people. We must make allowances for the venerable patriarch's age and his over-zealousness in the salvation of souls—a zeal, by the way, that has worked, all the same, wondrous changes in the moral and social conditions of humankind the world over, for the great system of evangelization which he has created and built up is a marvel of the last half century. But the venerable evangelist, with the characteristic pessimism which marks the sere and yellow leaf of life, says: "We have a world setting God Almighty at naught and rushing forward reckless of his wishes and threatening as to their fate. All nations seem to be banded together as one great people of rebellion, transgression and wickedness," which will wind up not in "a deluge of water sweeping the world and its inhabitants," but in its "destruction by fire."

In no time in the history of mankind, so far as the records of the human race show, has publicity of the doings of the race—its evils and its shortcomings—been so universal and complete as it is today, and the venerable Salvation Army leader has been misled into believing that the race is deeper steeped in sin and wickedness than it was at any previous stage in its history. He has evidently been carried off his feet, in consequence, and has overlooked the fact that the agencies for the improvement and uplifting of the race were never so numerous and effective before as they are now and that there exists, therefore, less cause than ever previously existed for the delivery of such a jeremiad. With all its faults, the human race is today more enlightened, leading a purer life and occupying a higher moral plane than at any previous stage in its development, and it is striving to reach a better and more consistent existence with the moral code than it has ever done before.

If the world is doomed to dissolution, therefore, it cannot be due to the increasing wickedness which General Booth ascribes to it. This old earth has moved along safely in its orbit and man has inherited it for ages unnumbered, and we can safely trust that the Great Creator of the Universe will carry it along in the same old way for ages unnumbered to come, Flammarion and Booth to the contrary notwithstanding.

Why not send Edwin T. Stearns to Washington to urge upon Congress the need of deeper water for Oakland harbor channel? There is not a man in all the city better fitted for the job. He is tactful, persuasive, indomitable, and thoroughly familiar with local conditions. He is not entangled with any private interests and has no personal axe to grind. He would do all in his power to secure favorable action by Congress, and his record as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is proof of his zeal and effectiveness.

The royal writs issued ordering the parliamentary elections throughout the United Kingdom in the various constituencies, and beginning on Thursday, set Saturday, January 15, as the day on which the majority of the constituencies will vote. Asquith wisely adopted this course, because, being a half holiday, it will afford a better opportunity for the workingmen resident in these constituencies to vote. The Conservative-Unionists are wrathful over the arrangement, and denounce the setting of Saturday for the elections in the great cities and industrial centers "as a low, unfair, despicable, cowardly and damnable trick." They wanted the elections in these constituencies to be held on Monday, when the greater number of workingmen would be unable to visit the polls unless they sacrificed a day's earnings.

Gongratulating Engine Drivers

Congratulations are due the engineers of that system and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for having reached an amicable adjustment of the wages problem and related questions. When so numerous a body of men as this completed peaceful negotiations with the foremost company in the country the general railroad situation presents a very much more quieting aspect than it did a few weeks ago. Then the air was thick with rumors of conflict. The talk was that from one end of the land to the other there would be a demand by railway employees for better compensation, practically without regard to conditions. The strike of switchmen on thirteen Northwestern lines had just begun, and it promised well for the men who had gone out. The immediate effect of this dispute was to emphasize the disastrous consequences of such precipitate action upon the industrial and consuming community. That frightened Northwest have not been as favorable as the strikers had anticipated. The result is to make organized labor more cautious. Railroads in the meantime, with traffic pressing them hard and prospects for next year distinctly encouraging, have been at work discreetly allying discontent and devising reasonable means to satisfy their employees. The combined result of all these events has been to improve the outlook for transportation companies, and there is substantial hope for uninterrupted operations.

In this crisis the course followed by the Pennsylvania Railroad and its engineers becomes of supreme importance and is worthy of hearty commendation. The influence of such a good example is bound to be widespread. The folly of others resorting to a less prudent and more dangerous policy, when interests which are so powerful a factor in the shipping world are pursuing the paths of peace and prosperity, will be too plain to be countenanced.—Pittsburg Times.

Topics Timely and Interesting

A building in San Diego, Cal., has a novel feature in the form of nesting places for birds. It is in the business part of the city and was erected by Daniel Cohen, by whose order many places along the front of the house where there were depressions in the wall were only partly covered over with a sheet of cement, leaving a little room in each instance. These apartments were quickly discovered by birds, who "squatted" there and built their nests forming an interesting colony. The idea is not unique, however, for a building similarly provided with apartments for birds exists at Los Angeles.

"Huh! So it took a man in the library of congress to find that out, did it?" remarked an old theatergoer in commenting on the report that the chief of the music division of the national library had finally declared "Dixie" the most popular tune in America. "Well, I'll bet he's been to a few performances in New York. D'ye know that every time they play that air in a New York theater it makes me think I'm in Richmond or Atlanta? And I bet that even down there they don't appreciate it any more than the people do up here. Just watch and listen the next time you hear it in Manhattan."

Aerial navigation as a regular method of transportation is assured in Germany. The stock of the new German Airship Company, to operate ships between Hamburg, Leipzig, Munich, Mannheim, Elberfeld, Essen, Stuttgart, Cologne, etc., was largely oversubscribed. Two ships are to be delivered and put into commission in the first half of the new year—Zeppelin IV, and Zeppelin V. Meanwhile, huge airship stations will be constructed in the various cities between which the aerial vessels will ply, carrying both passengers and freight.

Zeppelin IV, to be delivered in April for use by the German Airship Company, will be the largest ship which the celebrated German has yet built, with a capacity of 20,000 cubic meters of gas. Instead of aluminum, the framework will be constructed of a new alloy, called elastomeric. Two motors will propel the ship, and there will be a third for emergency use. The gondolas for passengers will accommodate a maximum of forty. Aerial navigation as a commercial enterprise is bringing with it the solution of various problems by the German engineers. One is perfecting for the new company a system of a complete network of signal lights for guidance on the night trip. For foggs there will be added signals by bell and siren.

To enable airship pilots to hold their course, the Imperial Observatory at Wilhelmshaven has devised by I. B. Binger a "duplex compass," which is described as a "delicate indicator of the horizontal intensity of the earth's magnetism at any point." Observations with the simple needle are difficult, because of the whirling motion of balloons running before the wind. The duplex is not affected by these and other motions usual to balloon ships.

The British Government cut the Gordian knot by deciding that whisky was whiskey, and that it was all good, whether blended or straight, new or old, Irish whisky was made in Ireland in large stills, and Scotch whisky was made in Scotland in small stills; new whisky—except it acted with an increasing thirst.

In the Liverpool slums, once so notorious, 18,000 unsanitary houses out of 22,000 have been demolished. Twelve that ran out.

Increasing Population of Britain

There is something apparently paradoxical, says the "Lancet," in the statistical fact that, in spite of the marked and steady decline of the birth-rate in England and Wales the actual number of births continues to increase. During the five years 1871-75 the mean annual birth-rate in England and Wales reached its maximum, and was equal to 36.5 per 1000; the mean death-rate during the same period was 22.0 per 1000. Thus the annual natural increase of population during this quinquennium was equal to 13.5 per 1000. During the most recent completed quinquennium, 1901-5, the annual birth-rate had fallen to 28.1 and the death-rate to 16.0 per 1000. Thus the mean annual natural increase of population did not fall below 12.1 per 1000 during 1901-5.

While, however, the rate per 1000 of natural increase of population, notwithstanding the marked decline of the death-rate, showed a distinct decrease during the thirty years referred to, the annual number of registered births to increase, owing to the constant addition to the population by excess of births over deaths. During the five years 1871-75 with a birth-rate of 36.5 per 1000, the average annual number of births registered in England and Wales did not exceed 531,785; whereas in the five years 1901-5, the average annual number of registered births had increased to 928,654.

Similarly, notwithstanding the decline during the thirty years of 1.4 per 1000 in the annual rate of natural increase of population, the actual numbers annually added to the population, which averaged 317,185 during the five years 1871-75, had increased to 404,341 during 1901-5.

It is interesting to note that while the mean-rate of natural increase of population, by excess of births over death, was equal to 12.1 per 1000 during the five years 1901-5 in England and Wales, it was during the same period equal to 14.3 in the German Empire, 14.2 in Denmark, 14.1 in Norway, 10.7 in Italy and in Belgium, 10.8 in Sweden, 10.4 in Switzerland, 9.2 in Spain and only 1.6 per 1000 in France.—London Times.

other part of the body may show the same change. One who watches the blushes of a painfully embarrassed person may see a faint pink flush spread over the ears and throat as well as the cheeks. It is said that among uncivilized tribes, where much of the body is habitually exposed, blushing, when it occurs at all, may involve all the unclothed parts. It is probably because the face is the part by which one is identified—that it is the recognized seat of the blush.

Sudden attacks of general blushing without any apparent reason may affect those who are somewhat advanced in life and constitute a most disagreeable symptom.—Youth's Companion.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

SMITH BROS., THE THIRTEENTH STREET STATIONERS, CONDUCTING A BIG CLEARANCE

ARE GIVING TREMENDOUS VALUES IN STATIONERY, PICTURES, ETC.—CALENDARS CAN BE BOUGHT FOR HALF PRICE—GREAT VALUES IN BOOKS IN SETS.

Smith Bros., the stationers, evidently believe in the old business principle of a quick turn over of stock. Their Clearance Sale seems to prove this fact, at any rate, for they are most assuredly forcing business by price reductions.

"We hold these sales once a year, every January," said Mr. Chas. Smith this morning, "and people always anticipate them and take advantage of them. Take this sale, for example. We are selling writing paper in fancy boxes for exactly one-half our Christmas prices. Then on calendars we make a cut of one-half. This means that people get two calendars for what one cost last week. Then there is another department which shows up big and that is framed pictures. Our stock of framed pictures, as every one knows, is a magnificent one, and we will advertise reductions all the way from 25 per cent to 3 to 3 per cent. It isn't to wonder people rush to get a few of them."

Probably the most interesting reductions the concern has made have been their art department, particularly the cuts they've made in wooden novelties used for burning purposes. The entire stock of this department, consisting of everything imaginable to burn, has been reduced 50 per cent.

I notice that the writing paper, which we have reduced one-half, seems to draw the greatest crowds," continued Mr. Smith, "but believe before the sale is over that there are other patrons who will discover that there are other savings equally great. Take books in sets, for instance, which have been reduced one-third. It takes people a little while to realize that such cuts are bonafide, but when they do find it is so they purchase heavily."

The object of the sale is to clean up all odd ends in the store. Smith Bros. enjoyed a tremendous Christmas business, and as a natural result were left with thousands of dollars worth of odd articles. Take calendars, for example—if these cannot be sold in January they cannot be sold at all. This is also true of Christmas boxes of stationery, books in sets and in fancy bindings, diaries, fancy leather goods, such as purses, pyrographical supplies, etc. These are the things that suffer the greatest reductions.

This sale offers an exceptional opportunity to the public which should certainly be taken advantage of. Smith Bros' store is on Thirteenth Street, between Broadway and Washington.

How to Make Better Cough Syrup Than You Can Buy.

A full pint of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time—can be made by the recipe given below. In five minutes, for only 54 cents. Simple as it is, there is nothing better at any price. It usually stops a deep-seated cough in twenty-four hours, and is a splendid household remedy for whooping cough, colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, etc.

Take a pint of granulated sugar, add 12 pint warm water and stir about 2 hours. Add 1/2 oz. of Pineal in a pint bottle and fill up with water. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. It keeps perfectly and the taste is pleasing.

The chemical elements of pine, which are very strong to members, are obtained in high proportion in Pineal, the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract.

None of the weaker pine preparations will work with this recipe. Your druggist has Pineal or can easily get it for you.

Strained honey can be used instead of the syrup, and makes a very fine honey and pine tar cough syrup.

LOSES MIND THROUGH WORRY OVER AFFLICITION

STOCKTON, Jan. 11.—Constant worry over the fact that he was a sufferer from tuberculosis caused Godfrey Adams, a well to do farmer of Acampo, in northern San Joaquin county, to go insane. He was duly committed to the local State hospital, but lived only a day after being registered at the institution, though he appeared to be quite strong when admitted.

The continuous praying of the disease upon his mind worked greater havoc than the germs in his lungs, and he is believed to have died many months before he would have had the feigning disease.

Some years ago he came out from the east with a party known as the Christian colony, which purchased a large tract of land in the northern part of San Joaquin county, and he prospered. He was fifty-six years of age, and a wife and a nineteen-year-old daughter survive him.

MOUNTAIN BIRCH WILL BE PLANTED

San Leandro Residents to Beautify Joaquin Avenue

SAN LEANDRO, Jan. 11.—Joaquin Avenue, San Leandro's principal residence street, is to be converted into a bower of beauty if the plans formulated by property owners along the thoroughfare in a meeting last night that thoroughly in a meeting last night in the Auditorium, are carried out.

Joaquin Avenue has long been lacking in the amount of trees necessary to make it look fit to be termed the city's principal residence street. Some weeks ago property owners along the thoroughfare met and discussed a proposition to plant pink flowering locust trees at intervals of fifty feet apart. The plan met with approval, all except the variety of trees to be planted. Considerable opposition arose against the locust tree as a street ornament because of its size. A committee was finally appointed to visit the University of California to learn, if possible, the best variety of shade tree for the kind of soil about San Leandro.

The committee reported their findings at a meeting held last night. As a result, property owners will plant mountain birch trees in front of their holdings on Joaquin Avenue. An order for 1000 of young mountain birch will be placed today, and the work of planting the trees will commence just as soon as they arrive. Every resident along the thoroughfare has pledged himself to plant trees at intervals of forty feet apart without loss of time.

HOLD DISCUSSION

ON NEW CHARTER

Civic League of Melrose Shows Interest in Future of Greater Oakland

A new charter for Greater Oakland formed the main topic of discussion at the meeting of the Civic League of Melrose, which met last night in Souza's Hall for the purpose of discussing the new conditions under which which Oakland will be governed in the future.

Arrangements have been made for a series of lectures bearing on the subject of city charters, the first of them to be given

Friday evening, February 4th, by Charles Z. White, who will outline the provisions of the Des Moines Charter, with which he is thoroughly familiar.

Individual study on the part of members of the league will also be made a feature of future meetings, each man being assigned a provision in some charter and asked to report its favorable and unfavorable points.

In this way it is expected that a full understanding of the subject will be obtained by all the members, as a free description of the Des Moines Charter will follow the description of the new charter.

A resolution was adopted, reading that as one of the written promises of the mayor of this city, the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Exchange, given to the Industrial Association in connection with the California Annexation, running through the Melrose district to Leona Heights, would give a service and that such service be asked, and a prop service which may be put into operation by the company is strongly objected to by the Melrose people, on the last evening the city will be 30 and the people content that the residence of the city would be run night care until after daylight. The resolution passed last night will be presented to the people and organizations who during the annexation campaign promised service, by a committee composed of E. C. Freeman, A. Hawkins, and Charles C. Calhoun.

A publicity committee, which will take charge of the advertising work of the league, was appointed at the meeting.

Officers: E. A. Freeman, chairman; Charles C. Calhoun, secretary; George Ingraham, C. Larsen, and J. Roggen. The committee met to formulate plans for the betterment of the district and for the securing of public interest in the advantages of the place. Seven applications for membership were received in the league, and due business transacted. A number of march committees are now on the presses.

Lauds Married Women as Wage Earners

Doubles Original Estimate of New York Husbands Who Live Off Their Wives

WHAT Carrie Chapman Catt SAYS

"Twenty-five thousand is an extremely conservative estimate of the women in New York who are supporting their husband. Several hundred thousand are helping to do so.

"If women are equipped to be self-supporting, boys should be taught household duties, so if ever their wives have to go out to do their work they can do theirs at home.

"Women without children should work after marriage. The woman who sits idly in a boarding-house or furnished room, is immoral and a parasite.

"A woman has no more right to put out a husband who has quit his job and is living on her wages than a man has to do the same to a wife who neglects her household duties.

"When a married woman and her husband are both wage earners, it is not right for him to pay the bills and for her to put her money on herself. She should pay her own expenses.

"When a married woman works she should have greater freedom, and be equal with her husband in deciding all questions affecting both.

"The change in women's condition is going to revolutionize the American home."

"Now," says Mrs. Catt, "the times have been so hard and conditions have changed so much that the number is probably doubled," which would mean that 50,000 husbands are living in innocuous desuetude while the feminine half of the firm thrusts her batons firmly through her headgear and starts downtown to hustle the living.

"The number of women who are helping to support their families by working in a way that does not reach the public—doing fancy work on the side or making articles for women's exchanges—can never be known. In a city with a population of approximately 5,000,000, it is a conservative estimate to say that several hundred thousand women are part sharers in the money-making end of the household."

WHY THEY BECOME WAGE-EARNERS.

"Why do women do it?" she was asked.

"It usually starts from necessity," she replied. "The man gets out of work, can thrown out of a position, and it seemed impossible for him to locate again. Then he tried doing anything he could get. He took jobs as night watchman, and work of that kind, which to a man of his equipment was a distinct comedown, and for which he was badly equipped physically. The little he made was insufficient to keep his wife and family, so she took a couple of boarders, and they really kept the family for a whole winter. Then the wife went back to her business, and as the man was making no little, and someone had to look after the children, the husband quit his job and stayed at home to do so.

"But this woman had to contend with the same inconvenience that most women meet who have families and go to business. While doing a man's work she was not released from her duties as housekeeper. This woman had breakfast before she left in the morning; then her husband washed the dishes and straightened the house, but badly, of course. When she came home at night she gave the children their supper and put them to bed, and then cooked her husband's supper."

"When a man and woman are both wage earners, what settlement should be made about money?"

"I certainly don't think that the man should pay all the bills and the woman put her money in the bank or spend it upon her clothes. The ideal way would be for them to pool their money, pay the household expenses out of it and divide the remainder equally, each to dispose of his or her share as desired and without question from the other. Or a proportion can be decided upon. When there is only a man and a woman the question is easy.

"When the woman is the sole wage earner I think she has a right to dictate the family expenses the same as the man when he is the one bringing in the money, and whatever arrangement held previous to her taking that position should obtain after."

"When the woman is holding up her end financially, don't you think she should have more freedom?"

"I do, by all means. I think this question is going to change the whole marriage relation—that it will bring women greater freedom in it, in the public position in their place in the home."

Only English Woman Who Owns a Newspaper

LONDON. — The Countess Bathurst is the only woman in England who owns a daily newspaper. She is the sole surviving child of the late Lord Glenesk, proprietor of the Morning Post, who died the other day. The Morning Post is one of the oldest established London dailies, with a character and a clientele quite its own. Under its late owner, whose life was centered in his paper, it became a prosperous undertaking. It was reduced from three pence to one penny with great advantage to its circulation and without any detriment to the peculiar standing and character it enjoyed among its contemporaries.

There are only two daily papers in London that have improved their position under the stress of competition created by the Daily Mail. These are the Daily Telegraph and the Morning Post. The latter paper has succeeded in catering to the modern newspaper reader, while still preserving the reticence and the exclusiveness of an earlier era.

The Countess Bathurst takes a real and active share in the general management of the paper, especially insuring that the policy of independent conservatism followed by Lord Glenesk shall be maintained. Mr. Baldwin has no more strenuous critic of his half-heartedness as a tariff reformer than the Morning Post, which, indeed, seems determined to overthrow the remains of the Salisbury influence in the Tory party.

BALL SAYS HE MAY QUIT JOB

Will Resign Rather Than Go Into Court for His Salary

Fire Marshal Nick H. Ball will resign his position at the head of the Oakland fire department, if the auditor does not approve his salary warrant for the amount, as it was fixed by the council when it created the position he now holds and about the legality of which there exists considerable doubt among the attorneys.

City Auditor Gross will make a report on the status of the case to the fire and police commissioners tomorrow, and the fact that he has decided to do so creates the impression that he is not favorably impressed with the authority of the council to create the position of fire marshal which gives Ball a higher salary than is given to any other man he would promptly audit the salary demands.

There has been some talk of testing the authority of the council in the courts by means of mandamus proceedings, directed against the auditor to show cause why he should not audit the fire marshal's salary warrant, and thus bring the question up for judicial determination.

To this the fire chief will not lend countenance and declares that it will not go to law to collect his salary.

"There is no use arguing about the matter," said Chief Ball. "If I cannot get the salary I am entitled to without going to court I do not want it. I have no desire to be a public scandal. My resignation is in regard to the matter, and if it is against me I will quit the service. I have put in a good many years working for the people of Oakland at a small salary and do not feel like continuing to do so. I will not sue for my salary, but will hand in my resignation."

In the event that Ball resigns it is believed that his assistant Sam Short, will be promoted to succeed him. While Ball himself will not declare a preference in the matter his friendship for his associate is so pronounced that the figures take their cue he will favor his promotion.

BANK RULE CAUSES INDIANS TO SUFFER

Major Lynch says the present condition is largely attributable to the recent rules about depositing rent money in banks that can be drawn and paid only when authority is granted from Washington.

WARFIELD BRINGS TEARS FROM WELLS OF MEMORY

Western Star Appears in the Never-to-Be-Forgotten Human Drama, the Music Master

We have seen the great Warfield at last.

After six long years of success in this play of the heart—no dramatic jabs to thrill one moment and depress the next, no brilliant revelation of a perverted psychology, no "literary" exposition of a theme, in and no phase of a cancerous society. It is a simple human document, touched with pathos and surcharged with the best of human nature which moves him.

Just a gentle old man, with a shock of iron gray hair and great friendly blue eyes, all gilded before the footlights with the half light of a bright sun, step bringing into our atmosphere from the West a fragrant breath from some quaint German village of the old world.

As a comedian of pathos is David Warfield, and in the music master there are many tears. Warfield is in your heart and in the same breath provokes a laugh. In your cardiac regions there is a wonderful sense of the story as he tells of hopeless grief, nor are there tears of tragedy—they are the kind that come from the little wells of memory.

L. HUMAN SCROOFS.

The sorrow that Warfield breathes are all human—wells—humorous sorrows—one might call them—the tender kind that are sweet. There are no keen pangs in this play of the heart—no dramatic jabs to thrill one moment and depress the next, no brilliant revelation of a perverted psychology, no "literary" exposition of a theme, in and no phase of a cancerous society. It is a simple human document, touched with pathos and surcharged with the best of human nature which moves him.

He will appear again tonight and tomorrow night will mark the conclusion of his three-day stay in our midst. From here he returns East, where, under the name of David Belasco, he is to star next season in a series of dramas and for a time "The Music Master" will give way to newer things. It is not the end however. Once seen the drama is here to stay, and from time to time the whimsical figure, which, from one side of the continent to the other, has learned to love both the actor and the late Max Flegman, that volatile comedian who pleased us nightly a short few months ago in his merry production of "The Man on the Box" will "return" to "Mary Jane's Picnic" for a brief engagement.

PRAISE FROM A SEATTLE WOMAN

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restored Her Health and Saved Her from Much Pain and Suffering.

If women keep their blood supply pure and sufficient it will overcome morbid tendencies at critical times in their lives and many trouble growing out of functional disorders would be avoided.

Regularity in all her habits, care of the diet and a safe tonic for the blood is all that is necessary in most cases to preserve the health in the most trying time of a woman's life. On this subject Mrs. Gustave Krueger, of No. 1325 West 12th street, Ballard Station, Seattle, Wash., says:

"I approached my fortieth year in a run-down condition from overwork. I had dizzy spells which would last for six or seven days and was nervous and unable to get much sleep. Whenever I became excited my heart would beat very fast and then at other times it would beat so slowly that I could not feel it. I had no appetite whatever and my stomach was weak. I was pale and run down in weight.

"For five years I was in this condition and was under the care of several doctors, both in Ballard and in England, Ark. I could not see that the doctors helped me at all. I finally started to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and was able to sleep better. I kept right on taking the pills and gained in weight and strength and felt better in every way. The pills cured me and I do not hesitate to recommend them."

Those who are interested in the treatment which cured this case can obtain further information by writing for the booklet, "Plain Talks to Women," which we send free on request.

Women will find in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the tonic exactly suited to their needs. Most of the ills from which they suffer are due to bloodlessness—a condition which the pills readily correct.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are also invaluable in rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fevers, sick headaches, stomach trouble, neuralgia and even in partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia.

The pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

BURNS HAS BEEN MADE FAVORITE OVER O'NEIL

CHICAGO FIGHTER THINKS BODY PUNCHING WILL WIN

Burns May Receive Chance With Al Kaufman This Month—Fight for Boxing Permits in San Francisco Unsettled

By EDDIE SMITH

THREE men who bet on the result of boxing contests have installed Salinas Jack Burns, sometimes called "Gentleman Jack," a favorite in the wagering on the result of tomorrow night's battle between Burns and Tim O'Neill. The bout is carded as the main event of the Oakland Wheelmen show at the Piedmont Pavilion and owing to the fact that the men are heavyweights, one already prominent in the ring, the other anxious to be called on, the fans have shown a decided interest in the ultimate result of the clash between the two.

Burns, by virtue of his clever work with "Gumboot" Smith, has made a great hit with the fans of this section of the country and it would matter little who he was pitted against at this time; in any event the fans would demand for the fine showing he made last month and install him a favorite in the betting. O'Neill has gone right ahead with the preparing for the contest with the knowledge that Burns would be a big favorite and has shown little or no care as to what the bettors think of his chances.

O'NEIL CONFIDENT.

O'Neill fully expects to win from Burns by beating him down during a series of fast knock-ups, in which his time will mostly be taken up with body fighting. O'Neill watched the Smith-Burns battle and became convinced that Burns' weakest spot was the body. Timothy believes that Smith's failure to reach that portion of the body with better accuracy was due to the lack of experience possessed by the boxer, while he is sure he will be able to pepper the mid-section until Burns is either beaten down or made ready for the finishing punch to the head.

Of course Burns is a non-believer in all this talk about what Tim O'Neill will do. He is of the opinion that Jack Burns is a natural and will be the fellow to do all the damage. The general impression seems to prevail, however, that the contest will be a hard-fought one, which neither man will have an easy time in winning. The remainder of the card, consisting of six round bouts between Frankie Edwards vs. Johnnie McCarthy, Paddy Ellis vs. Willie O'Neill, Ray Baughman vs. Jack Kerck, and a four-round curtain raiser, looks good and the even- ing's sport should be extremely enter- taining.

CLIFFORD DECLINES.

Young Clifford was originally matched to meet Paddy Ellis, but for reason he refused, as did Jeff Perry, when offered the match. Ellis is not the kind of easy pickings that the boxers like to tackle and his contest with the clever Little Australian, Willie O'Neill, should be worth watching.

The battle for fight permits in San Francisco is on. All sorts of clubs have sprung up in the last few weeks and the managers are now making life for the newly elected superintendents as miserable as possible by pressuring them for both amateur and professional boxing permits. The battles met yesterday and after listening to the talk of the would-be promoters referred the requests to the police committee and this committee will report Friday, when it is expected, Jim Griffin will be given the permit for the month of January. Sid Hester made a bid for a permit to stage a contest February 22d in San Francisco, which of course means a permit to show four times during the coming year.

GLEASON ZEALOUS.

Jack Gleason was on hand to beg, borrow or steal a permit for the year, and more especially one for the month of July, at which time the Jeffries-Johnson fight is due. Jack is very anxious to stage the contest in San Francisco and while he can not guarantee the super- visors that he will bring the big mill here he is very confident that with the help of his sleeves he will be able to convince Rickard that the right place to stage the bout is San Francisco. To give the promoters permission to hold the contest in San Francisco the supervisors would have to repeal the ordinance, which says that boxing contests must be of twenty rounds duration. This could be done, and the promoters of the big scrap could be given a special permit, but to lengthen the distance of all contests held in San Francisco to forty-five rounds would be the ruinous of the game of boxing in this coast. Had Gleason been able to get Rickard to come to San Francisco and ask for a permit to stage the contest here, the men in power would have allowed it. McCarthy has said that he would allow it and what he says goes just about now on the other side of the bay.

RICKARD OBSTINATE.

Rickard continues to place San Francisco in the third position among the places he has in view as the battle ground and this does not set very well on the stomachs of the men who run things in the big village across the bay. The idea of placing San Francisco in third position to Salt Lake City and Ely is not very good business and they know that Tex will not go to San Fran. The permit business is all in the same condition and there is no end nor tail of the thing at the present time, with the exception that Jim Griffin will get this month's permit and will try to stage Salinas Jack Burns and Al Kaufman or Jim Barry if that worthy wins from Tim O'Neill.

BOGAN PREFERRED.

It has been said that George Bogan will get a permit to conduct amateur contests during the coming year, but who the other clubs whose request will be recognized are it is hard to tell. Bogan has been identified with the boxing game for many years and if given a chance he will do a good job. The amateur contests are well conducted and the spectators get what they pay for, something that a few of the clubs at present doing business in San Francisco do not do.

The list of amateur clubs asking the favor of the city fathers is as follows:

The Railroad Athletic Club, a new organization, asks permission to hold bouts at Dreamland Rink on January 1st. The Auditorium Club asks permission for boxing exhibition on February 11th. Dreamland also asks for a February permit. Other clubs—The Boxing Permits are due at Dreamland, the Club for January 31st, the Columbia Athletic Club for the month of February, and the Golden Gate Athletic Club for January 14th.

DECLARING his intention of taking on Frank Gotch, world's wrestling champion, John Middle Eky, a full-blooded Indian, left El Paso yesterday for New York. He has done considerable wrestling and has never lost a contest.

The following were the prize winners at the state tournament held under the auspices of the Oakland State Society, at their headquarters, 111 Twelfth street, Oakland, on January 9, 1910. 1. L. Korn, N. H. Hamburger, 2. Kahlid, 3. A. Schubmann, 4. H. Strohman, 5. O. J. Schubmann, 6. H. Dobrinski.

For the first time in the history of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players, now in convention at New York, no applications have yet been received for the class A national championship tournament. The trophy is held by Charles P. Wright of San Francisco, who is one of the strongest contenders for the professional ranks.

It is still thought a national tournament will be held this winter, but whether in New York or Chicago will be determined later.

Mrs. Sarah E. Partridge, former champion woman pistol shot of the world, committed suicide yesterday in Medford, Mass., shooting herself through the heart. She had been suffering from nervous trouble. Her husband, Eugene C. Partridge, is an expert marksman and widely known.

Henry Schoolcraft of Buffalo, Morris S. Holliday of Ithaca, and Captain Le Grand de Craft Simpson of North Tonawanda, were elected by the Cornell Alumni to act as the field committee, government, football and baseball to select their coaches and adhere to the same system as carried out last year. Practice this year will be held on the new alumni field.

Yale athletic teams yesterday all reported for the spring campaign. Walter Camp, general athletic coach, and Captain Phyllis met the baseball candidates in the gymnasium last evening and outlined the season's play. Registration is not complete, but forty candidates are assured.

Captain Wodell, yesterday, called the rowing candidates together. Work with the boatmen has been completed and the boatmen are retired, some keeping barrooms, others on the stage and others obscured from the sun. Kid McCoy is trying to get money enough to start a boxing club and an American saloon in Pacific. Jim L. Sullivan is in vaudeville; poor old Bob Fitzsimmons will be on the stage again in a short time; Corbett is an actor. Then there was Jack McCormick and Peter Jackson; all good ones in their day, but not one once of fight left on the new alumni field.

Speaking of the Old Guard, Jeffries is really the last member. The old fellows (not really old, either, but worn out) are retired, some keeping barrooms, others on the stage and others obscured from the sun. The Tom Sharkey ring, vaudeville, is now a thing of the past. Kid McCoy is trying to get money enough to start a boxing club and an American saloon in Pacific. Jim L. Sullivan is in vaudeville; poor old Bob Fitzsimmons will be on the stage again in a short time; Corbett is an actor. Then there was Jack McCormick and Peter Jackson; all good ones in their day, but not one once of fight left on the new alumni field.

One by one they left the ring. Rubin, retired after his poor showing against Jack McCormick. Sharkey quit after being outpointed by Munroe. Corbett lost hope when Jeff beat him in Frisco. Peter Jackson threw away his trunks after Jeff trinned him in California. Fitz took the count from Bill L. Mullins and is now a dead one. Joe Gans went down before Battling Nelson and is now content to run his Baltimore boxing business. The Dreamland Club for January 31st, the Columbia Athletic Club for the month of February, and the Golden Gate Athletic Club for January 14th.

Will Jeff Go the Way of All the Old Guard?

By JESS THOMPSON.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Jim Jeffries is the last fighter left in the pugilistic Old Guard and what a bad fight July 7th will be. The way Bob Fitzsimmons and Gus Rubin, John L. Sullivan, Jeems Corbett and the others went, or will be, surprise the world with first-class form and win the title from the dusky boy Rustus Jack George Washington Johnson.

Already bets are being made, with Jeffries the favorite. The first bet on record, so far as I could find, was made by Frank of Chicago, who wagered $5000 against $4000 that Jeffries would win. Frank took the favorite end quite readily and said he had every reason to believe that Jeff would be the victor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Jim Jeffries is the last fighter left in the pugilistic Old Guard and what a bad fight July 7th will be. The way Bob Fitzsimmons and Gus Rubin, John L. Sullivan, Jeems Corbett and the others went, or will be, surprise the world with first-class form and win the title from the dusky boy Rustus Jack George Washington Johnson.

Already bets are being made, with Jeffries the favorite. The first bet on record, so far as I could find, was made by Frank of Chicago, who wagered $5000 against $4000 that Jeffries would win. Frank took the favorite end quite readily and said he had every reason to believe that Jeff would be the victor.

Speaking of the Old Guard, Jeffries is really the last member. The old fellows (not really old, either, but worn out) are retired, some keeping barrooms, others on the stage and others obscured from the sun. The Tom Sharkey ring, vaudeville, is now a thing of the past. Kid McCoy is trying to get money enough to start a boxing club and an American saloon in Pacific. Jim L. Sullivan is in vaudeville; poor old Bob Fitzsimmons will be on the stage again in a short time; Corbett is an actor. Then there was Jack McCormick and Peter Jackson; all good ones in their day, but not one once of fight left on the new alumni field.

One by one they left the ring. Rubin, retired after his poor showing against Jack McCormick. Sharkey quit after being outpointed by Munroe. Corbett lost hope when Jeff beat him in Frisco. Peter Jackson threw away his trunks after Jeff trinned him in California. Fitz took the count from Bill L. Mullins and is now a dead one. Joe Gans went down before Battling Nelson and is now content to run his Baltimore boxing business. The Dreamland Club for January 31st, the Columbia Athletic Club for the month of February, and the Golden Gate Athletic Club for January 14th.

TAX COLLECTOR IS IN NEW QUARTERS

Councilman Stiefvater Represents the Advice From the Grand Jury

City Tax Collector Edwin Meese was authorized by the City Council last night to engage the store adjoining that now occupies the office of the assessor at Fifteenth and Clay streets at a rental not to exceed $60 a month.

Mr. Meese explained that the phenomenal growth of the city had rendered his quarters adjoining the treasurer's office too cramped, being used for the purpose of the tax collector's department should for public convenience be in close proximity to the assessor's office.

The authorization was urged by Councilman Oliver Ellsworth. Councilman Stiefvater was also in favor of giving the tax collector more room and also declared that the city attorney should be provided with an office in the Oakland Bank of America, which is to be erected in the city hall given over to the police department already too cramped to conveniently carry on public business.

In response to a communication from the city surveyor, indicating that the narrow space between the street railway tracks on Broadway, Councilman Ellsworth's resolution, citing the Traction company officials to appear before the mayor, was referred to the city attorney to explain why they had not started in to comply with the previous order of the Council.

Councilman Stiefvater declared that he favored the resolution, but it should be objected to the interests of the grand jury in matters that were already under consideration by the Council.

"They ought to be advised," said the mayor, "that we can run our business without advice from them."

The Board of Public Works was directed to instruct the Superintendent of Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph to submit a report to the city attorney and maintenance and maintenance of red lights at the eastern and northern boundaries of the city. These lights are to be placed to warn to automobile that they are approaching the city of Oakland and must regulate their speed accordingly.

The protest from the Spanish League of the First Methodist Episcopal Church against nickel dance halls was referred to the city attorney, who concluded the hearing of protest.

The report of commissioners on the opening of Fourteenth street, and against the widening of Sixty-fifth street, were laid over.

Protest was received from George Cox and others against the sidewalk of Hayes street, which will be heard in committee.

A communication was received from W. H. Palmer of Elmhurst requesting that the City Council take action to compel the Southern Pacific Company to reduce its fare within the city limits to five cents, as the other cities in the state required it to do. It was referred to the railroad committee. Petitions to sidewalk Thirtieth street, to improve Shafter avenue and establish grades on Jones street were referred to the street committee for consideration Thursday night.

POSTPONE STREET OPENING. The opening of Washington street from Fourteenth to San Pablo, which was to be taken up for consideration last evening by the city Council sitting as a committee of the whole, was deferred until next week. The city attorney was unable to report in the matter on account of the questions involved in assessing a district for the use of public property.

Arrests His Chief For Auto Speeding

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11.—Chief of Police Edward Dishman was arrested at Hollywood for exceeding the automobile speed limit law and fined $10 yesterday by Judge Herndon of the suburban town.

Chief Dishman was with his family in a large touring car and as he approached Hollywood was halted by Motor Patrolman Blinn, who informed the chief that he was going just thirteen miles faster than the law allowed.

Chief Dishman was detained by the Los Angeles force by the chief of police to help out the Hollywood force, but did not know his own chief when making the arrest. Dishman arranged to plead guilty in Judge Herndon's court but did not appear personally to hear himself fined.

WILL PRESS EXTENSION ROAD TO LAKEVIEW

ALTURAS, Jan. 11.—The Nevada-California-Oregon Railroad has stored in its yards in this city enough steel rails to lay five miles of track, and there are in its Reno yards enough more to lay twenty miles of track. Those at Reno are being brought on to Alturas, and more are arriving at Reno at frequent intervals.

Rails have been arriving here daily for some time, and these and other preparations demonstrate that the company is in earnest in its plans to push construction on to Lakeview, Oregon.

Chief Engineer Oliver will be in Alturas this week to take charge of the construction work. A contract was awarded to an Oregon company recently to grade the roadbed for the proposed extension, which will be fifty miles long.

WOMAN SCHOOL CHIEF NOT AT ALL WORRIED

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 11.—"Direct primary or not, I will run anyway," declared County Superintendent of Schools Mrs. Minnie R. O'Neill yesterday in looking forward to a campaign for re-election.

Mrs. O'Neill is not at all worried over the interpretation of the law passed by the last legislature doing away with conventions wherein it makes a technical discrimination between men and women.

This can be avoided, she says, by having her friends write her name on the Democratic ballot at the coming primary election. In that way it will be unnecessary to have a regular nominating petition, which the law gives to qualified voters only.

COAL FAMINE DANGER PASSES WITH BLOCKADE

SILVERTON, Colo., Jan. 11.—All danger of a coal famine passed last night when the snow blockade of the Denver & Rio Grande, which has isolated this city since December 20, was raised. Three train loads of coal arrived here yesterday by a passenger train from Denver. More than 300 men have been employed in raising the blockade.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—A solution of the proposed of increased cost of living was proposed to the conference of superintendents of the public schools yesterday by Miss Mary S. Snow, supervisor of domestic arts.

The servant girl question which is vexing the people of Chicago is to be solved through the Department of Domestic Science in the public schools, it is hoped.

It is proposed to train the girls in the schools to be efficient housekeepers and managers so that young men in more circumstances will not be afraid to marry them.

Miss Snow said: "We hope to eliminate the servants because the girls earn their own hats, make their own dresses and cook their own meals, and thus reduce the expense of living."

BERKELEY, Jan. 11.—The Merchants' Exchange of Berkeley has indicated the proposition for holding a food old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration in Berkeley this year. This action was taken at last night's meeting of the exchange.

Vice-President Fred A. Mueller, who presided, explained that the organization was not in any way bound beyond this expression of opinion and that it would be necessary for the committee on publicity, to which the matter was referred, to make a report showing the practical details of such a celebration and the exchange of views with which such a program would be advisable. The statement expressed at last night's meeting was that a patriotic display would arouse interest throughout this part of the State, would keep our people at home and attract many others from the adjoining communities.

PROGRAM FOR DAY.

Although nothing definite was outlined it was suggested that it the celebration be decided on it should include a three-day festival, beginning Saturday, July 2, and continuing through Sunday, July 3, and Monday, July 4, with proper observances for the 4th. It was admitted, might tax the ingenuity of the committee, but there are the possibilities of the grand patriotic concert—one in the afternoon and the other in the evening, besides other appropriate ceremonies. Saturday could be devoted to sports and Monday would be given up to such entertainments as are customary, after the literary exercises. It is not proposed to have any fireworks in the city of Berkeley, so nothing from that source need be feared.

A patriotic display there is to be should take place on the hills near the big C, or in other parts of the upper regions of the city.

GRANT MORE TIME.

The committee recently appointed to consider the advisability of offering a prize to arouse interest in home trading was granted further time in which to submit a report.

Samuel Taylor was appointed chairman of the membership committee with authority to add four other members as his assistants. It is the intention of this committee to visit different parts of Berkely for the purpose of arousing interest in the work that is being done by the exchange for the benefit of all who are in business here. Reports from all over the city were most encouraging, indicating that conditions are becoming better and there is evidence that the work done by the exchange has helped in this improvement.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Prominent New York lawyers and judges hope to secure the establishment in this city of a police court to be known as the "Court of Domestic Relations," at which only cases of men abandoning their wives and children shall be tried.

There are more than 30,000 cases of wife desertion heard in New York courts every year, and backers of the new movement point out that the regular magistrates in the rush of other business are unable to give proper consideration to these abandonment cases.

WANT WILL DECLARED TO BE INVALID

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 11.—The charge that the late Louis F. Ewald, millionaire iron master, made his will under the influence of which Ellen J. Golden, who induced him to leave the bulk of his fortune to her, was declared to be unfounded yesterday by Mrs. Rosa E. Damon, sister of Ewald, who was cut off with $15,000. Ewald left $2,134,000 in cash. Mrs. Damon says that her brother's will, which was probably made in St. Louis, Ky., be set aside and that the instruments by which he adopted Mrs. Golden's children be declared invalid. Ewald was a St. Louisan, but died in Louisville.

IN PROBATION

Oakland Club Women Appoint
Committee to Work
With Ruess

The women of the Oakland Club, which raised the money to pay for De Vries when the present Prosecuting Attorney served as probation officer and which later led the fight for a detention home in Alameda, now have unanimously voted to appoint a committee to co-operate with Probation Officer Ruess. Miss Ettie Wood, chairman of the committee appointed by the Oakland Club, stated the following: "We feel that if there be anything more we can do by way of assistance we shall be glad to serve. The work is dear to the heart of every woman. As chairman of the committee, I greatly appreciate any suggestion you may have." Ruess states that he will ask the Oakland Club to take the lead in organizing the Alameda Welfare League in Alameda County, along similar lines to that followed by the Juvenile Improvement Association affiliated with the Juvenile Court work in Denver, Los Angeles, and San Francisco. The chief purpose of such an organization, however, he declares, should be to study and promote work for the prevention of juvenile dependency and delinquency, rather than merely to help look after children after they have become victims of parental and community neglect.

Miss Moore is a member of several women's clubs in St. Louis, and is a member of the St. Louis Society.

COACHMAN IN LOVE
PUTS END TO HIS LIFE

REDWOOD CITY, Jan. 11.—Leaving a note in which he declared that jealousy was the cause of his suicide, Seversen, a coachman employed at the Henshaw place in Sausalito, committed suicide some time Sunday night by swallowing a carbolic acid and severing an artery on the left wrist with a razor. Pinned on the dead man's coat was the following note left with the razor:
"To Whom It May Concern. It was jealousy that caused this. It was the machinations of Mrs. Severon's French maid who is now in New York with her mistress."

SPRECKELS WILL NOT CONTESTED

Attorneys Declare That There
Will Be No Dispute Over Estate

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—Whatever they may have prevailed that a contest of the will would be made by his two sons, John D. and Adolph B. Spreckels, has been set at rest. The time for the settlement of a contest of the will expired yesterday, and the following statement was made by the attorney for the estate:
"The will is valid and there is no dispute over it."

Spreckels and his wife believed that a successful contest of the will of their father, the late Claus Spreckels, could be maintained, but when realized that a contest could not be made without drawing into the long and distressing battle which would necessarily ensue, one who could not succeed in relation to them, who is of great age, and is in a precarious condition of health. As they honored their father, so they honored their mother. They would not be moved by any consideration for her have avoided such a contest.

Their attack on the trust clauses contained in their father's will now pending before Judge Coffey does not affect any provision of the will in that it involves only
